

:: Automation Controls

Remote Maintenance Technologies (RMT) has developed an expertise, and is fully capable of supporting a wide range of automation controls and automation software, including Siemens, Allen Bradley, Modicon and a number of smaller, less prevalent manufacturers such as Toshiba and Horner. Our Field Service Engineers are factory trained, formally educated and experienced with both small and large scale automation systems. We are fully equipped to directly access and service most control platforms, troubleshoot and resolve most I/O interface modules, and support a wide range of communication options.
